

Filipinos find greener pastures with their dream jobs in Ireland and Slovakia

Issue No. 10 | Q3 Issue | 2026

Recently, Filipino workers seeking greener pastures have undergone a rigorous process to find work abroad, specifically in European countries. One batch of candidates in particular have notably passed their assessments and qualify for work abroad.

One of the workers in the batch was discovered by a Saudi Arabian employer. There, he gained relevant experience to merit a job position in Ireland. They are currently working as a service technician.

Another worker has a talent for evaluating and examining cars. Their experience as a motor-vehicle technician has landed them a position in one of the reputable car dealers in Ireland.

Meanwhile, some workers have successfully passed an exhaustive practical test in order to become qualified truck drivers for a Slovakian company. Their local experience has qualified them for the position, and they are given the opportunity to travel abroad to work.

Filipinos interviewed to become Trailer Truck Drivers

On September 24 and 25, PNI International has scheduled face-to-face interviews where aspiring Trailer Truck Drivers were tested in their English comprehension skills and their ability to communicate. Interviews were held as their skills were put to the test.

Various candidates have succeeded as they land their dream jobs with the support of PNI International.
